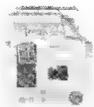
Documents Stack

Welcome to Mac OS X Leopard

The Dock in Leopard has a sleek new look and a new feature called Stacks. With Stacks you can quickly access important and frequently used files right from the Dock.



Stacks are simple to create. Just drag any folder to the right side of the Dock and it becomes a stack. Click a stack and it will spring from the Dock in either a fan or grid. To open a file in a stack, just click the file once.

Mac OS X Leopard includes two pre-made stacks called Documents and Downloads. You opened this file from the Documents stack. The Documents stack is a great place to keep things like presentations, spreadsheets, and word processing files. You can drag and drop files to the stack or save them to the stack when you save a document in an application.

Documents Downloads

Stacks automatically display their contents in a fan or grid based on the number of items in the Stack. If you prefer one style over the other, you can set the stack to always open in that style. Stacks intelligently show the most relevant items first or you can set the sort order to make sure the item you care about most always appear at the top of the stack. To customize a stack, position the pointer over the stack icon and then hold down the mouse button until a menu appears.

To delete a file from a stack, just open the stack and drag the item you wish to remove to the Trash. In fact, when you're done reading this document, feel free to throw it out.

Dear Parents and Students

On Friday, June 3, 2011, all eighth grade students will be invited to attend the 8th grade end-of the year dance celebration. The celebration will be held at Rider University in their Student Recreation Center. Students may be dropped off at the Student Recreation Center at 7:00 pm and should be picked up promptly at 10pm. All students must be picked up by an adult in order to be dismissed from the dance.

During the celebration, the students will have the opportunity to participate in a variety of activities including dancing, Gamin ride Mobile Game Theater, onsite photo slideshow, live video feed of the dance floor, and DDR simulators. Also, this event will be catered with a variety of finger foods and drinks sure to please all. Because this is the last dance of the year, it is important that students dress nicely and wear comfortable clothing while staying in compliance with the school dress code. The girls are permitted to wear spaghetti strap dresses but no halter tops will be permitted.

Tickets will cost $30 per student and the money is due to your homeroom teacher by Wednesday, May 25, 2011. Please make check or money order payable to Lawrence Middle School. No Cash.

The farewell ceremony will take place on Wednesday, June 15, 2011 at 7:00 pm at Rider University in the Student Recreation Center. Each student will be recognized for successfully completing eighth grade. Students are encouraged to dress nicely for the ceremony. Gentlemen are encouraged to wear dark pants with a white shirt and ladies are encouraged to wear a nice dress. Attached is a map of the Rider University Campus. The Student Recreation Center is the building indicated as on the enclosed map. Although parking is directly behind the Student Recreation Center, please be sure to leave time to walk into the building and find seating.

Each eighth grader will receive two tickets to the farewell ceremony. Additional tickets will be provided for each student upon written request by the parents on a first come, first serve basis. Also if you do not need the two tickets you have been given, please return them via your student to the main office. Please contact us at the Middle School if you have any questions.

Inappropriate behaviors between now and the end of the year can result in a student losing his/her privilege of participating in the end-of the year activities. We are looking forward to the 8th grade dance and seeing you on June 15.

Respectfully yours,

Andrew M. Zuckerman
Principal

To test the send functionality of your fax machine, send a one-page fax to 1-888-877-1655 (a toll free number in the United States.) When it's finished transmitting, point your web browser to FaxTex — it's a fun web site that displays whatever is faxed to that number. Within a minute your fax should appear on the site. Click the thumbnail to see a large version.

To test the receive functionality of your fax machine, point your web browser to FaxZero; this site lets you send faxes for free to anywhere in the United States and Canada. Within a few minutes, your fax machine should ring – hopefully, it will automatically answer and spit out the test fax.

سری دوم تمرین‌های طراحی الگوریتم‌ها

۱. فرض کنید یک درخت دودویی کامل با ارتفاع h و $n=2h$ گره برگ داریم. هر گره درخت نیز دارای یک مقدار می باشد. تعریف می‌کنیم:

- اگر گره x گره برگ باشد، $A(x)$ برابر است با مجموعه شامل x و تمام اجداد x تا ریشه درخت (تا ریشه درخت)
- اگر x و y دو گره برگ مجزا باشند، $A(x,y)$ برابر است با اجتماع $A(x)$ و $A(y)$ یعنی $A(x,y) = A(x) \cup A(y)$ و $F(x,y)$ را حاصل جمع عناصر $A(x,y)$ تعریف می‌کنیم

الف) الگوریتمی ارائه کنید (با استفاده از بسته کد یا توصیف فارسی) که برای یک درخت دودویی کامل، دو گره برگ x^,y^ را پیدا کند، طوریکه مقدار $F(x^, y^)$ ماکزیمم گردد و سپس مقدار $F(x^, y^)$ را بعنوان خروجی بازگرداند.

ب) مرتبه زمانی الگوریتم ارائه شده را تعیین کنید.

توجه: الگوریتم ارائه شده باید مبتنی بر روش تقسیم و حل باشد.

مثال برای درخت زیر گره های X^* و Y^* مشخص شده‌اند و خروجی الگوریتم برابر ۱۴۱ است. زیرا

$A(x^*) = \{ 19, 15, 21, 36 \}$
$A(y^*) = \{ 20, 30, 21, 36 \}$
$A(x^, y^) = \{ 19, 15, 21, 36, 20, 30 \}$
$F(x^, y^) = 19 + 15 + 21 - 36 - 20 + 30 = 141$

۲. (تحلیل الگوریتم مرتب‌سازی ادغامی) الگوریتمی بنویسید که برای مرتب کردن یک آرایه n عنصری، ابتدا آن را به ۲ قسمت با طول $n/3$ عنصر تقسیم کرده، سپس هر قسمت را به همین روش مرتب کرده و سپس ۲ نیمه مرتب شده را با هم ادغام کند. با تحلیل پیچیدگی زمانی الگوریتم، مرتبه زمانی آن را مشخص کنید.

Abstract

The discovery of causal relationships from purely observational data is a fundamental problem in science. The most elementary form of such a causal discovery problem is to decide whether X causes Y or, alternatively, Y causes X, given joint observations of two variables X, Y. This was extended to the case of more than two variables. Several approaches for tackling this and related causal discovery problems were proposed recently. In this paper we present the benchmark data and the tools that were used in the cause-effect pair challenge that was held as a part of the ICPR 2012 workshop on "Machine Learning for Causality". The challenge consisted of two tasks: a pairwise cause-effect pair task and a more general network discovery task. The task data, both synthetic and real-world, as well as the scoring methods are described in detail. The results that were obtained during the challenge are briefly reviewed. In addition, we present baseline results that were obtained with additional causal discovery methods. Data and code are available at http://webdav.tuebingen.mpg.de/cause-effect/ and http://www.causality.inf.ethz.ch/cause-effect.php?page=data. Finally, we analyze the robustness of the accuracy of the bivariate model-based causal discovery method proposed by Hoyer et al. (2009) against violations of the assumptions underlying the method.

Keywords: Causal discovery, additive noise models, information-geometric causal inference

"We hope it will open the eyes of the country community and hopefully they'll say 'The guy did win,' said Beck. And he's made my records considered the best in country and maybe we should readdress the situation.

Willie Nelson loved the ad and hung it up in his bus. "John speaks for all of us. Everyone who comes in here to see it.

George Jones loved the ad too and made one of his own to promote his song "Wild Irish Rose" showing George surrounded by basketballs, footballs and baseballs and the caption, "If radio had any, they'd play this record."

"All of a sudden radio's find their way. Radio shows me one of the biggest trouble shows to book here, they don't play our music. If no one is giving us stick up for us, we'll have to do it ourselves.

The success of Johnny Cash and its continuing ripples, which are now less than a decade in the past, is found on T-shirts and stickers and all over the internet. I acknowledge that many like it simply for the rawness, but to me it symbolizes the struggle of RPAF country artists. Many assert that traditional country fans don't like or demand quality and creativity so they remain underground only like "obscure" country because it isn't. Johnny Cash proved a few of important things

1. Just because something is popular doesn't mean it is the best

2. Country radio chose not to play what people were told and it showing on trade charts so as George said, "bull's "

3. Most importantly and most disappointed, the country radio Johnny proved that you can be successful without country radio's support

Use Bonnie

How to use the disk benchmark software

This is short HOWTO for running bonnie++. This is a burn-in and benchmarking application written in C++.

- Install the bonnie++ RPM (with source) or the distribution tarball.
- Make a directory in a filesystem which resides on the device you want to test (e.g. /bench).
- Change the ownership and permissions on the test directory to a non-root user (e.g. chown bench.bench /bench; chmod 755 /bench).
- Run bonnie++ as a non-root user following the options given by the man page (e.g. `bonnie++ -d /bench -s 1000000 -x 5 -u bench:bench -q -f 2>&1 | tee bonnie++.LOG`).

(This tells bonnie++ where to test (/bench), filling 1000000MB of disk space (using approximately 1000x1GB files). This is done 5 times and is run as user/group pair bench:bench. It tells bonnie "quietly" and only performs "fast" tests. The resulting stderr is copied to stdout which is piped to tee which displays on its stdout and writes to bonnie++.LOG.)

I also watch the progress of the test by opening a second login session and running something like `watch --differences df`

How to Perform a Clean Install of Snow Leopard OS X 10.6

Erase and Install Still Possible With Upgrade Version of Snow Leopard

By Tom Nelson, About.com Guide

Without a doubt, the upgrade version of Snow Leopard will be the most popular version available. And why not? At $29, it's a steal. Even more amazing, Apple didn't configure the installer to do any checking for qualifying installed versions of Leopard, so the upgrade version works just like a full install version, with one little exception.

Previous versions of OS X had installers that could perform various types of installations. The most popular types of installations were "Erase and Install" (sometimes called a clean install), Archive, and Upgrade. The Snow Leopard installer has no option for performing any type of installation other than an upgrade, but with a few extra steps, you can get it to perform an Erase and Install for you.

Erase and Install

The secret to performing an Erase and Install is to manually erase your hard drive using Disk Utility before you install Snow Leopard. To do this, you will need to perform the following steps:

1. Boot from the Snow Leopard Install DVD
2. Erase the hard drive.
3. Install Snow Leopard on the erased hard drive.

Step-by-step guides for performing Steps 2 and 3 are already available here at About Macs, so I will walk you through Step 1, and then link to Steps 2 and 3. Once you perform all three steps, you will have a clean install of Snow Leopard on your Mac.

Boot from the Snow Leopard Install DVD

1. Insert the Snow Leopard Install DVD into your Mac's optical drive.
2. Once the Snow Leopard DVD mounts on the desktop, the Mac OS X Install DVD window should open. If it doesn't, double-click the DVD icon on the desktop.
3. In the Mac OS X Install DVD window, double-click the 'Install Mac OS X' icon.
4. The Install Mac OS X window will open and present you with two options. You can continue with a standard upgrade installation, or use the utilities included on the Install DVD. Click the Utilities button.
5. The Snow Leopard installer will inform you that in order to use the supplied utilities, you will need to restart your Mac and boot from the DVD. Click the Restart button.

Using Disk Utility from the Snow Leopard Installer

1. After you reboot your Mac, the Snow Leopard installer will ask which language you want to use as the main

Title

I am using Voice Over Internet Protocol (VoIP) and cannot send and/or receive faxes

Description

There are many environmental parameters which can affect FAX over VoIP communications. Although Voice over Internet Protocol (VoIP) is not a new field, its use of the Internet, a network with several factors that affect the ability to send and receive faxes successfully when using this service.

1. Try adjusting the "Compatibility" setting of the Brother machine. Assuming it is set to a faster baud rate (i.e. not V.29) and turns ECM (Error Correction Mode) OFF when sending and receiving faxes. If you Brother machine has a touchscreen, please follow the steps of "For Touchscreen models" below.

   a. Press Menu or Menu/Set, and select Fax => Miscellaneous => Compatibility
   b. Press the Up or Down Arrow key to select Basic (for Basic(for VoIP))
      Press Basic(for VoIP) reduces the modem speed to 9600 bps
   c. Press OK or Menu/Set or Set
   d. Press Stop/Exit

   <For Touchscreen models>

   a. Press Menu and select Fax => Miscellaneous => Compatibility
   b. Press Basic(for VoIP).
      Basic(for VoIP) reduces the modem speed to 9600 bps
   c. Press Stop/Exit

2. Verify that no other applications or power saving features (including third party firewall software on your computer and those not normally running with both) are affecting the ability of data that can be transmitted from all devices on the system at one time is limited. If a FAX is being sent or received at the same time as other bandwidth intensive activities (web surfing, online gaming and video streaming), the FAX may get interrupted.

3. Try sending the FAX again at an "off peak" time. FAX over VoIP is an Internet application. If you have ever had a web site which normally loads quickly, take a long time to load, then you have experienced network congestion. The same thing can happen with FAX over VoIP. Data packets get delayed, but since there is less sensitive room on the network end of the communication to wait a few fractions of a second, try the FAX again later may avoid this.

4. Contact your VoIP provider and ask if they can optimize the network settings for FAX transmission.

Under construction by contractors with top-secret clearances, the blandly named Utah Data Center is being built for the National Security Agency. A project of immense secrecy, it is the final piece in a complex puzzle assembled over the past decade. Its purpose: to intercept, decipher, analyze, and store vast swaths of the world's communications as they zap down from satellites and zig through the underground and undersea cables of international, foreign, and domestic networks. The heavily fortified $2 billion center should be up and running in September 2013. Flowing through its servers and routers and stored in near bottomless databases will be all forms of communication, including the complete contents of private emails, cell phone calls, and Google searches, as well as all sorts of personal data trails—parking receipts, travel itineraries, bookstore purchases, and other digital "pocket litter." It is, in some measure, the realization of the "total information awareness" program created during the first term of the Bush administration—an effort that was killed by Congress in 2003 after it caused an outcry over its potential for invading Americans' privacy.

But "this is more than just a data center," says one senior intelligence official who until recently was involved with the program. The mammoth Bluffdale center will have another important and far more secret role that until now has gone unrevealed. It is also critical, he says, for breaking codes. And code breaking is crucial, because much of the data that the center will handle—financial information, stock transactions, business deals, foreign military and diplomatic secrets, legal documents, confidential personal communications—will be heavily encrypted. According to another top official also involved with the program, the NSA made an enormous breakthrough several years ago in its ability to cryptanalyze, or break, unfathomably complex encryption systems employed by not only governments around the world but also many average computer users in the US. The upshot, according to this official: "Everybody's a target; everybody with communication is a target."

For the NSA, overflowing with tens of billions of dollars in post-9/11 budget awards, the cryptanalysis breakthrough came at a time of explosive growth, in size as well as in power. Established as an arm of the Department of Defense following Pearl Harbor, with the primary purpose of preventing another surprise assault, the NSA suffered a series of humiliations in the post–Cold War years. Caught off guard by an escalating series of terrorist attacks—the first World Trade Center bombing, the blowing up of US embassies in East Africa, the attack on the USS Cole in Yemen, and finally the devastation of 9/11—some began questioning the agency's very reason for being. In response, the NSA has quietly been reborn. And while there is little indication that its actual effectiveness has improved—after all, despite numerous pieces of evidence and intelligence-gathering opportunities, it missed the near-disastrous attempted attacks by the underwear bomber on a flight to Detroit in 2009 and by the car bomber in Times Square in 2010—there is no doubt that it has transformed itself into the largest, most covert, and potentially most intrusive intelligence agency ever created.

Passive and Active Port Layout

For MoCA installations it is best to install MoCA devices on adjacent and semi adjacent ports for the lowest port-to-port isolation. The examples below indicate the ports that are adjacent and semi adjacent of the BDS100VF Series splitters and the Data Plus Amplifier. The green indicates the ports that are adjacent and the red indicates the ports that are semi-adjacent. It is best not to connect MoCA devices between the semi-adjacent groups as this will result in the highest port-to-port isolation and possible be too much attenuation for proper MoCA communication.

Recycled paper
The machine is designed to use regular paper and also recycled paper which complies with EN 12281 2002 or similar Additionally Laser/LED machines are able to print on 64g/m2 (Bond 17 lb) paper This paper contains less raw materials and represents a significant resource saving.

Duplex printing
Duplex printing enables both sides of a sheet of paper to be used. This saves paper and reduces the size of printed documents, as fewer paper sheets are used. We recommend that the feature is enabled whenever you print if supported by your machine

ENERGY STAR(R)
To save energy look for the ENERGY STAR mark on products. ENERGY STAR compliant products are designed to be among the best on the market in terms of energy consumption.

Power management
The machine automatically switches to "Ready" after the last print job After a default time, the device will automatically switch to lower power modes using its Power Management function.
In these modes the machine s energy consumption is reduced.

VCR - 50 watts

What Do The Terms Volts, Amps, Ohms And Watts Mean?

The best way to explain these terms is to compare them to water

Voltage (V) is the potential for energy to move and is equivalent to water pressure
Current (I) is a rate of flow and is measured in amps Ohms (r) is a measure of resistance and is equivalent to the water pipe size

These three terms are related to each other with a simple formula that reads current is equal to the voltage divided by the resistance
I=V/r

Imagine you have a tank of water with a hose connected to the bottom of this tank What happens if you increase the pressure inside of this tank? The amount of water flowing out of the hose will also increase The same is true when you increase voltage more current will flow

What happens if you connect a larger diameter hose to this tank? The flow rate will al increase because the resistance dropped The same is true if you use a large gauge wire when moving current The larger the wire the more current you can move throug with damaging the wire

Watts is a measure of power If you want to increase the speed of a turning water wh you can do this in two different ways The first way is to increase the water pressure This will cause the water to hit the wheel with more force The second is to increase

Ingredients

1 pound green lentils

3 tablespoons olive oil

1 lb ground Italian sausage (You can also use ground Italian turkey sausage)

1 cup diced onion (about 1 large)

1 ¼ cups diced celery (about 4 stalks)

1 ½ cups diced carrots (about 3-4 large)

1 ½ cup chopped zucchini (about 1 small)

1 tablespoon minced garlic (2 large cloves)

2 teaspoons kosher salt

1 teaspoon fresh ground black pepper

1/2 teaspoon red pepper flake

1 teaspoon dried basil

1 teaspoon dried oregano

1 teaspoon dried thyme

6 cups chicken broth

2 (14 1/2 ounce) cans diced tomatoes, undrained

grated Parmesan

fresh parsley

Directions

1 In a large bowl, cover the lentils with boiling water and allow to sit for 15 minutes. Drain.

2 In a large stockpot over medium heat, heat the olive oil and add in the Italian sausage. Brown the sausage until it is cooked through.

3 Add in the onions, celery, carrots, zucchini, garlic, herbs and spices. cook for about 15 minutes, stirring often.

4. Add the chicken stock, canned tomatoes, and drained lentils, cover, and bring to a boil.

5. Reduce the heat to low and simmer uncovered for 1 ½ hours, or until the lentils are cooked through and tender, stirring occasionally. Add water as needed to adjust the consistency of the soup. You want to ladle over a little in the finished dish, so I add in about 3 cups half way through the cook time.

6. Taste for seasonings—add more salt and pepper to taste. Serve sprinkled with grated Parmesan and fresh parsley.

4.4.1. Creating Logical Volumes

To create a logical volume, use the `lvcreate` command. Use the `-n` option to specify a name for the volume, and `-L` to specify its size. For example, to create a 10 GB volume named `mydata`:

lvcreate -L 10G -n mydata vg01

If you do not specify a name for the logical volume, the default name `lvol#` is used where `#` is the volume number of the logical volume.

The following sections provide glossary of logical volume creation for the three types of logical `lvcreate` are created with `lvm`.

4.4.1.1. Glossary Linear Lvcreate

Use the `-n` option to create a linear volume. The logical volume is carved from a physical group using the free volume on the physical volumes that make up the physical group. Normally, logical `lvcreate` use any free space available on the underlying physical volumes in a first-fit basis. Modify the logical volume's first and last physical volume `-n` the physical volumes.

The following command creates a logical volume 10 gigabytes in size in the volume group `vg1`.

lvcreate -L 10G vg1

The following command creates 1500 megabytes linear logical volume named `testlv` in the volume group `testvg`, creating the block device `/dev/testvg/testlv`:

lvcreate -L1500 -ntestlv testvg

The following command creates a 50 following logical volume named `gamelv` from the free extents in physical group `vg1`.

lvcreate -l 50 -n gamelv vg1

You can use the `-l` argument to the `lvcreate` command to specify the size of the logical volume in extents. You can also use this argument to specify the percentage of the volume group to use for the logical physical The following command creates 4 logical physical volumes so that one fifth of the total space in volume group `testvg1`.

lvcreate -l 20%VG -n mylv testvg

You can also use the `-l` argument to specify the percentage of the remaining free space in a volume group to the size of the logical volume. The following command creates a logical volume called `yourlv` in the unallocated space in the volume group `testvg1`.

lvcreate -l 100%FREE -n yourlv testvg

You can use `-L` argument to the `lvcreate` `lvcreate -n` create a logical volume that uses the entire volume group. Another way to create a logical volume that uses the entire volume group `-l` to use the `vgdisplay` `lvcreate -n` find the "Total PE" size and to use these values as input to the `lvcreate` command

The following procedure creates a logical volume called `mp3` that fills the volume group `music` `vgdisplay`.

$ vgdisplay testvg | grep "Total PE"
Total PE              10230
$ lvcreate -l 10230 testvg -n mp3

The underlying physical volumes used to create a logical volume by the `lvcreate` if the physical volumes needs to be changed or you may need to consider this possibility when you create the logical volume. For information to change a physical volume from a volume group, see Section 4.3.3, "Removing Physical Volumes from a Volume Group."

To create a logical `pvdisplay` be allocated from a specific physical physical in the volume group, specify the physical volume or volumes at the end of the `lvcreate` command line. The following `lvcreate` command logical volume `testlv` in volume group `testvg` allocated from the physical volume `/dev/hda1`.

lvcreate -L 3000 -ntestlv testvg /dev/hda1

You can specify which extents of a physical volume are to be used for a logical volume. The following example volume a linear logical volume `testlv` of volume `testvg` has physical 25 of physical volume `lvcreate` and contains 10 through 124 of physical volume `/dev/hda1` in volume group `testvg`.

lvcreate -L 500 -n testlv testvg /dev/hda1:24-123 /dev/hdc1:125-125

The following example creates a linear logical volume out of extents 0 physical 25 of physical volume `/dev/hda1` and then `lvcreate` being out the logical volume `lvcreate` `lv0`.

lvcreate -L 200 -n testlv testvg /dev/hda1:0-24 lv0

The default policy for how the `lvcreate` volume of a logical physical one allocated is `lvdisplay`, which applies the same policy as for the volume group. These policies can be changed using the `lvcreate` command. For information on `lvcreate` policies, see Section 4.5.2, "Changing Volume Groups."

Functional connectome fingerprinting: identifying individuals using patterns of brain connectivity

Emily S Finn[1,2] Xilin Shen[3,4] Dustin Scheinost[4] Monica D Rosenberg[5] Jessica Huang[6] Marvin M Chun[1,2,4] Xenophon Papademetris[3,6] & R Todd Constable[1,2,4]

Functional magnetic resonance imaging (fMRI) studies tend to collapse data from many subjects, but brain functional organization varies between individuals. Here we establish that this individual variability is both robust and reliable, using data from the Human Connectome Project to demonstrate that functional connectivity profiles act as a 'fingerprint' that can accurately identify subjects from a large group. Identification success across sessions and between task and rest conditions (including that an individual's rest data can be used to identify them from task) was robust, regardless of how the brain is engaged during imaging. Characteristic connectivity patterns were distributed throughout the brain, but the most informative edges were found to span the whole brain. Furthermore, we show that connectivity profiles predict levels of fluid intelligence: the same networks that were most discriminating of individuals were also most predictive of cognitive behavior. Read in isolation, the potential to draw inferences about single subjects on the basis of functional connectivity fMRI...

All individuals are unique. Neuroscientists, however, overwhelmingly characterize traditionally collapsed data from many subjects in draw inferences about generic patterns of brain activity. Is a consensus across people? Studies that contrast groups of people sometimes, such as patients and healthy controls—typical examples where the goal is to make biological inferences within a small group.

Despite the predominance of such populations, the inferences researchers learn long is important that even among these homogeneous healthy brain structure and function[1–4] there high degree of variability. In terms of function, variability is found in activation patterns during cognitive tasks[5–8] as well as intrinsic organization as measured by functional connectivity analyses of data acquired while subjects were resting[9]. Initiatives such as the Human Connectome Project (HCP)[10] aim to map the structural and functional connectivity of the healthy adult brain in unprecedented detail by acquiring high-quality neuroimaging data from a large number of healthy subjects[11]. Many of these efforts in years to come are focused on elucidating the general human brain structure rather than to characterize groups. Yet, despite this, group similarities, there is reason to believe that a substantial portion of the brain's connectome is unique to each individual.

An open question is whether such variability is sufficient to accurately identify[1] a unique a translation from brain level variation to meaningful single subjects. Here we show that fc neural connectivity profiles not as an identifying fingerprint, but that the individual variability in connectivity is both unique and highly reliable. Using HCP data from 126 subjects each scanned across two separate sessions over 2 d, we demonstrate that a functional connectivity profile obtained from one scanned can be used to accurately identify a given individual from the set of profiles obtained from the second session. We show that identification is successful between rest sessions, task sessions or even across rest and task. These results indicate that although changes in brain state may modulate connectivity patterns on some degree, an individual's underlying functional connectivity patterns were fairly stable. Finally, we show that these connectivity profiles were also sufficiently unique from those of other individuals to identify a subject from the group organization of how the brain is engaged during imaging.

Furthermore, we establish the relevance of these connectivity profiles to behavior by demonstrating, in a fully cross-validated analysis, that functional connectivity profiles can be used to predict the fundamental large brain of fluid intelligence in subjects. These results provide a critical foundation for a new work about individual differences about single subjects to reveal how individual functional brain organization relates to distinct behavioral phenotypes.

RESULTS

Data for this study consisted of scans from 126 subjects provided in the QL data release of the HCP[11]. Each subject was scanned over a period of 2 d. We used data from all separate imaging conditions: two rest sessions (rest1 each day here referred to as Rest 1 and Rest2) and four task sessions (working memory, emotion, motor and language; see methods). Functional connectivity was assessed using 268 functional 'nodes' consisting of 268 nodes covering the whole brain (this atlas was defined on the basis of a separate population of healthy subjects (Online Methods, Yale data set). The Pearson correlation coefficients between the time courses of each possible pair of nodes were calculated and used to construct 268 × 268 symmetrical connectivity matrices, where each element represents a connectivity strength, or edge,

Hot and Sour Soup
The Chinese Cookbook by Craig Claiborne and Virginia Lee

One of the most appetizing soups in the Chinese repertoire — and one that creates appetite with its seductive blend of hot and sour — is called simply Hot and Sour Soup. It contains two kinds of mushrooms (fungi, if you will), shredded pork, and bean curd. The hot comes from white pepper, incidentally — not hot oil — and the sour comes from vinegar

A WARFARE PRAYER

(BEFORE STARTING YOUR DAY)

Heavenly Father I bow in worship and praise before you I cover myself with the blood of Jesus Christ and claim the protection of the blood for my family, my finances, my home, my spirit, soul, and body I surrender myself completely in every area of my life to you I take a stand against all the workings of the devil that would try and hinder my family and me from best serving you I undress myself only to the true and living God and refuse any involvement of Satan in my prayer Satan, I command you and all of your demon forces of darkness, in the name of Jesus Christ, to leave my presence. I bring the Blood of Jesus Christ between the devil and my family my home, my finances, my spirit, soul, and body I declare, therefore, that Satan and his wicked spirits are subject to me in the name of the Lord Jesus Christ Furthermore, in my own life today I destroy and tear down the strongholds of the devil against my mind, and surrender my mind to you, blessed Holy Spirit. I affirm, heavenly Father that you have not given me the spirit of fear, but of power and of love and of a sound mind (2 Timothy 1 7) Therefore, I resist the spirit of fear in the name of Jesus the son of the living God, and I refuse to fear refuse to doubt, refuse to worry because I have authority (power) over all the power of the enemy and nothing shall by any mean hurt me (Luke 10 19) I claim complete and absolute victory over the forces of darkness in the name of Jesus and I bind the devil and command him to loose my peace, joy healing, prosperity and every member of my family for the glory of God and by faith, I call it done!

I break and smash the strongholds of Satan formed against my emotions today and I give my emotions to you I destroy the strongholds of Satan formed against my will today I give my will to you and choose to make the right decisions of faith. I break down the strongholds of Satan against my body today and I ~~give my~~ body to you ~~confessing~~ that I am the temple of the Holy Ghost (I Corinthians 3 16-17, I Corinthians 6 19-20) Again, I cover myself with the blood of Jesus Christ and pray that the Holy Ghost would bring all the work of the crucifixion, all the work of the resurrection, all the work of the ascension of the Lord Jesus Christ into my life today I surrender my life and possessions to you I refuse to fear worry or be discouraged in the name of the Jesus. I will not hate, envy or show any type of bitterness toward my brothers, sisters or my enemies. But I will love them with the love of God shed abroad in my heart by the Holy Ghost (Romans 5 5)

Open my eyes and show me the areas of my life that do not please you and give me the strength, grace and wisdom to remove any sin or weight that would prevent our close fellowship Work in me to cleanse me from all grounds that would give the devil a foothold against me. I claim in every way the victory of the cross over all satanic forces in my life I pray in the name of the Lord Jesus Christ with Thanksgiving and I welcome the Ministry of the Holy Spirit, in Jesus name!

EGFR Mutations DETECTED T790M and L858R mutations

Method Target Selector™ by Biocept

The EGFR Mutation assay is a quantitative Real-Time PCR based mutant enrichment assay with selective blocking of EGFR wild-type amplification. The amplified products are purified and subject to sequencing to confirm the presence of the EGFR mutation. This assay analyzes for the following EGFR mutations: del 19, L858R and T790M. The assay has a sensitivity >99% and specificity >98%, at 0.1% mutant allele frequency.

Supporting Data

Specimen	Status	Mutant Copies / Milliliter per sec	Total wild Copies / Milliliter per sec	Percent Mutant Allele
T790M	Detected	9	227	3.96% mutation frequency of T790M over EGFR wild-type
L858R	Detected	9	2275	0.396% mutation frequency of L858R over EGFR wild-type
Del19	Not Detected	5	2275	0.220% mutation frequency of Del19 over EGFR wild-type

Plasma Volume Used: 4 ml

This Target Selector™ assay analyzes for the presence of Del19 and L858R activating mutations associated with response to targeted EGFR tyrosine kinase inhibitors as well as the T790M point mutation associated with resistance to these therapies.

19. Public health initiatives commonly partner with what other profession to create a healthy population?

    a. Scientific
    b. Political
    c. Medical
    d. Religious

Answer: C

Rationale: Public health is primarily concerned with improving the health of nations, as well as minimizing or limiting the effects of illness, disease, and injury. To do this, public health initiatives often work with the medical profession as they both work toward maintaining healthy individuals, but they do so from two different perspectives. Public health initiatives at times will seek to partner with other groups such as religious, science, or political organizations, to achieve some end, but most often they partner with the medical profession.

20. You are managing a patient who was at a light and was struck in the head with a large pipe. You find the patient unresponsive, apneic, bradycardic, bleeding from the head, and bleeding into the airway from oral trauma. Assuming you had all your EMT equipment available to you, what would be your initial action?

    a. Suction the airway

Stand-alone Medicare Prescription Drug Plans (Part D)

Medicare Prescription Drug Plan (PDP) — A stand-alone drug plan that adds prescription drug coverage to Original Medicare, some Medicare Cost Plans, some Medicare Private-fee-for-Service Plans, and Medicare Medical Savings Account Plans.

Medicare Advantage Plans (Part C) and Cost Plans

Medicare Health Maintenance Organization (HMO) — A Medicare Advantage Plan that provides all Original Medicare Part A and Part B health coverage and sometimes covers Part D prescription drug coverage. In most HMOs, you can only get your care from doctors or hospitals in the plan's network (except in emergencies).

Medicare Preferred Provider Organization (PPO) Plan — A Medicare Advantage Plan that provides all Original Medicare Part A and Part B health coverage and sometimes covers Part D prescription drug coverage. PPOs have network doctors and hospitals but you can also use out-of-network providers, usually at a higher cost.

Medicare Private Fee-For-Service (PFFS) Plan — A Medicare Advantage Plan in which you may go to any Medicare-approved doctor, hospital and provider that accepts the plan's payment, terms and conditions and agrees to treat you — not all providers will. If you join a PFFS Plan that has a network, you can see any of the network providers who have agreed to always treat plan members. You will usually pay more to see out-of-network providers.

Medicare Point of Service (POS) Plan— A type of Medicare Advantage Plan available in a local or regional area which combines the best features of an HMO with an out-of-network benefit. Like the HMO, members are required to designate an in-network physician to be the primary health care provider. You can use doctors, hospitals and providers outside of the network for an additional cost.

Medicare Special Needs Plan (SNP) — A Medicare Advantage Plan that has a benefit package designed for people with special health care needs. Examples of the specific groups served include people who have both Medicare and Medicaid, people who reside in nursing homes, and people who have certain chronic medical conditions.

Medicare Medical Savings Account (MSA) Plan — MSA Plans combine a high deductible health insurance plan with a bank account. The plan deposits money from Medicare into the account. You can use it to pay your medical expenses until your deductible is met.

Medicare Cost Plan — In a Medicare Cost Plan, you can go to providers both in and out of network. If you get services outside of the plan's network, your Medicare-covered services will be paid for under Original Medicare, but you will be responsible for Medicare coinsurance and deductibles.

Dental/Vision/Hearing Products

Health insurance plans offering additional benefits for consumers who are looking to cover needs for dental, vision or hearing. These plans are not affiliated or connected to Medicare.

Hospital Indemnity Products

Health insurance plans offering additional benefits payable to consumers based upon their medical utilization sometimes used to defray copays/coinsurance. These plans are not affiliated or connected to Medicare.

Medicare Supplement (Medigap) Products

Health insurance plans offering a supplemental policy to fill "gaps" in Original Medicare coverage. A Medigap policy typically pays some or all of the deductible and coinsurance amounts applicable to Medicare-covered services and sometimes covers items and services that are not covered by Medicare, such as care outside of the country. These plans are not affiliated or connected to Medicare.

Aetna Medicare is an HMO/PPO/PDP plan with a Medicare contract. Enrollment in Aetna Medicare depends on contract renewal. Plans are offered by Aetna Life Insurance Company and its affiliates.

July 6th, 2016

Dear Randy,

Happy Summer! We hope that you are enjoying the beautiful weather that we've been having.

As everyone knows the FDA regulations are coming and we are hearing FDA has started sending inspectors to manufacturers, distributors and retail shops to check compliance of vape products. Actually Puffin got inspected by FDA and WSLCB in June, and both inspections went well. We can assure you that Puffin E Juice try our best to be compliant with current regulations.

The first item is regarding FDA label requirement taking effect on Aug 10th. The regulation is comprised of the following requirements:

1. All packaging must contain the following exact phrase and must comprise at least 30% of the packaging. "WARNING: This product contains nicotine. Nicotine is an addictive chemical."

2. It must also include the following: Name and place of business, accurate statement of quantity of contents, and the statement "Sale only allowed in the United States"

As you may know Puffin has already changed our labels back in February so shop owners would not need to worry about non-compliant inventories. Please be sure to rotate stock by selling the older juices first. It's allowed to sell non-compliant labeled juice if it has been manufactured before Aug 10th.

Secondly, Puffin is registered and up to date with the FDA on all our products. The folder we have prepared for you includes Puffin E Juice's GCC, FDA Establishment Identification Number and TP Numbers verifying Puffin E Juice is FDA registered. Please keep this folder in safe and easily accessible place in case of an FDA inspection.

We at Puffin E Juice always appreciate your business. It is our intention to keep you informed and prepared so you can handle an FDA inspection or audit without encountering any issues. We are proud to provide compliant products for our customers and hope that our efforts aid and support your business in this chaotic times.

We sincerely value you and appreciate our continued relationship!

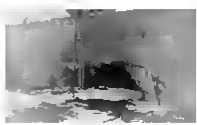
Consider the string of attacks by extremist Islamic terrorists against the United States over the past few decades alone!

* September 11, 2001 - Terrorists hijack four U S commercial jetliners Two are flown into the Twin Trade Towers in New York City One is flown into the Pentagon The final aircraft is prevented from being used against the U S. House of Representatives only after the American passengers retake the plane from the hijackers. In the struggle to regain the plane, the jet crashes. Over 3 000 innocent Americans are dead by the end of the day from the combined attacks

* October 12, 2000 – Islamic extremist terrorists steer a small boat filled with explosives directly into the U.S.S. Cole - an American Naval Destroyer 17 U S. servicemen are murdered in the attack



* On August 7, 1998, Islamic terrorists, killing 212 people and wounding approximately 4 500 people, bombed U S embassies in Nairobi, Kenya and Dar es Salaam Tanzania Four Al Qaeda agents were convicted in the killings in May 2001 Two of the Islamic terrorists had received training at Al Qaeda-operated camps inside Afghanistan

* On June 25 1996 members of the Islamic terrorist group Hezbollah killed 19 American servicemen and injured hundreds of others when they detonated a truck bomb in front of the Khobar Towers military complex in Dhahran, Saudi Arabia

RE: Fraudulent Bitcoin activities from your account holder Mr. Grant Seamans #3262 3981211

This is to inform of very suspicious activities from your account holder Mr. Grant Seamans with account #3262-3981211

My computer was recently infected by a virus which encrypted my documents, and demanded a BITCOIN ransom in return. In communicating with the attackers who infected my computer, they directed me to "localbitcoins.com" to obtain BITCOIN to pay this ransom.

I contacted an individual known as "dseamans" on the localbitcoins.com website, and they directed me to go to my local BMO branch and make a cash deposit into a personal bank account. After making the deposit in this personal bank account, the ransom would be paid off.

I found it very peculiar that a business would use a personal bank account to accept cash deposits, as well as for such a questionable transaction.

This letter is to inform you that Mr. Grant Seamans, who has an personal account at your local branch appears to be engaging in these activities.

After making the desired deposit cash deposit at my local BMO branch in Mr. Grant Seamans's account (#3262-3981211), the virus was removed from my computer.

I have elected to write this letter anonymously to avoid being attacked again. I am unsure of the degree to which Mr. Grant Seamans is using the account for these purposes, but I suspect it is worth investigating.

If you require further information, please contact me at qcxtracker@tutanota.com

Thank you for your attention.

SERIES 63 COURSE ALERT

Student Note: It was recently brought to our attention that you may encounter questions on your exam on a Federal Securities Law called Regulation D. Although this item is not referenced in the exam outline we feel it could greatly benefit you to read the following as you may encounter related questions on your exam.

Regulation D – Federal Private Placement Rule

The federal private placement rule is different from the private placement rule under the Uniform Securities Act (USA). Under the USA, a private placement allows for 10 offers in most in a 12 month period.

Under Reg. D it is considered a private placement so long as to whom the shares are sold to is controlled. Under Reg. D the shares can be sold to an unlimited number of Accredited Investors. Shares sold under Reg. D do not have to file a registration statement with the SEC

Accredited Investors include

- Institutional clients – banks, insurance companies, investment companies, NOT IAs
- An organization, corporation or partnership with assets in excess of 5M
- Individuals with net worth of greater than 1M or annual income exceeding 200K in each of the previous 2 years and expected this year or 300K if joint income

Under Reg. D the shares may be sold to a maximum of 35 non-accredited investors

It is possible to have a private placement under federal law that is non-exempt and thereby requires registration under state law

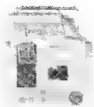
Documents Stack

Welcome to Mac OS X Leopard

The Dock in Leopard has a sleek new look and a new feature called Stacks. With Stacks you can quickly access important and frequently used files right from the Dock.



Stacks are simple to create. Just drag any folder to the right side of the Dock and it becomes a stack. Click a stack and it will spring from the Dock in either a fan or grid. To open a file in a stack, just click the file once.

Mac OS X Leopard includes two pre-made stacks called Documents and Downloads. You opened this file from the Documents stack. The Documents stack is a great place to keep things like presentations, spreadsheets, and word processing files. You can drag and drop files to the stack or save them to the stack when you save a document in an application.

Documents Downloads

Stacks automatically display their contents in a fan or grid based on the number of items in the Stack. If you prefer one style over the other, you can set the stack to always open in that style. Stacks intelligently show the most relevant items first or you can set the sort order to make sure the item you care about most always appear at the top of the stack. To customize a stack, position the pointer over the stack icon and then hold down the mouse button until a menu appears.

To delete a file from a stack, just open the stack and drag the item you wish to remove to the Trash. In fact, when you're done reading this document, feel free to throw it out.

How Can I Test My Fax Machine?

I just hooked up a new fax machine, and I'd like to test it, just to make sure it works. How can I do that?

Presumably, you want to test your fax machine by sending a fax from it and receiving a fax with it. Here's how to do both:

To test the send functionality of your fax machine, send a one-page fax to 1 855-330-1239 (a toll-free number in the United States.) When it's finished transmitting, point your web browser to Fax Toy — it's a fun web site that displays whatever is faxed to that number. Within a minute, your fax should appear on the site. Click the thumbnail to see a large version.

To test the receive functionality of your fax machine, point your web browser to FaxZero. This site lets you send faxes for free to anywhere in the United States and Canada. Within a few minutes, your fax machine should ring — hopefully, it will automatically answer and spit out the test fax.

NOTICE TO THE HOME LOAN APPLICANT

In connection with your application for a home loan, the lender must disclose to you the score that a consumer reporting agency distributed to users and the lender used in connection with your home loan and the key factors affecting your credit scores.

The credit score is a computer generated summary calculated at the time of the request and based on information that a consumer reporting agency or lender has on file. The scores are based on data about your credit history and payment patterns. Credit scores are important because they are used to assist the lender in determining whether you will obtain a loan. They may also be used to determine what interest rate you may be offered on the mortgage. Credit scores can change over time, depending on your conduct, how your credit history and payment patterns change, and how credit scoring technologies change.

Because the score is based on information in your credit history, it is very important that you review the credit-related information that is being furnished to make sure that it is accurate. Credit records may vary from one company to another.

If you have questions about your credit score or the credit information that is furnished to you, contact the consumer reporting agencies at the addresses and toll-free numbers provided with this notice, or contact the lender. If the lender developed or generated the credit score, the consumer reporting agency plays no part in the decision to take any action on the loan application and is unable to provide you with specific reasons for the decision on a loan application.

If you have questions concerning the terms of the loan, please contact the lender at:

Quick Styles and Themes work together to help you create documents that look professional and coordinated with your current document look.

You can easily change the formatting of selected text in the document text by choosing a look for the selected text from the Quick Styles gallery on the Home tab. You can also format text directly by using the other controls on the Home tab. Most controls offer a choice of using the look from the current theme or using a format that you specify directly.

To change the overall look of your document, choose new Theme elements on the Page Layout tab. To change the looks available in the Quick Style gallery, use the Change Current Quick Style Set command. Both the Themes gallery and the Quick Styles gallery provide reset commands so that you can always restore the look of your document to the original contained in your current template.

Actualités récentes

En 1802, on assiste à la naissance officielle du canton d'Arthabaska, doté de l'un des rares noms administratifs d'origine amérindienne de la région des Bois-Francs. Les premiers colons, originaires de Bécancour et de Saint-Grégoire, commencent à défricher le territoire à partir de 1835. En 1855, le bureau de poste qui dessert l'endroit est identifié comme Arthabaska Station, dénomination qui s'étend à la localité.

Au moment où l'on songe à créer une municipalité, peu avant 1860, deux personnages influents du canton d'Arthabaska, Julien Dorais et Louis Fortin, se disputaient la suprématie sur ce territoire. Alors que Dorais jouissait d'une forte popularité en se qualifiant d'homme d'affaires, Fortin caressait le projet de prendre la direction de la localité. Lorsque le moment de créer une municipalité autonome arriva, Julien Dorais tenta d'imposer son propre nom en suggérant Dorisville, jugé trop prétentieux par Louis Fortin qui proposa Victoriaville en l'honneur de la Reine Victoria (Victoria régnante qui vécut de 1819 à 1901, régna pendant 64 ans).

Just

Dear Homeowner,

The State of Hawaii Statue 514B has empowered Boards of Directors to mandate HO-6 (contents) insurance for your apartment with a simple majority vote. That ballot has passed

Also a reminder that in our October Board Meeting the Board voted to make this insurance requirement effective January 1st, 2008. On that date all homeowners must have HO-6 insurance

Anyone who did not have HO-6 insurance by that set date had insurance purchased for them and then billed for it. The 514B Statute empowers the Board to buy and bill any homeowner who does not purchase the HO-6 insurance on their own.

Important Note: For those of you who already have insurance and for those of you who will be purchasing it, you need to add Kaanapali Royal as a "Certificate Holder" to your policy

Certificate Holder is different than naming Kaanapali Royal as "additional insured". We do not want to be named as additional insured just added as a Certificate Holder.

By doing that it simply means that our Office will now be notified if the policy is no longer maintained and in force such as would be in the case if you sell your unit.

Usually once your HO-6 Insurance expires your Insurance Company sends our Office an updated insurance for the year to date, but we have not as of yet received this copy of your insurance from your insurance company that is why you are receiving this notice. Please have them send us an updated insurance for your apartment.

Thank you for your attention in this matter. If you have any questions, please feel free to contact Charity in the Office or anyone of the members of the Board.

Board of Directors

Charity - did you receive my fax of my insurance? Also I called State Farm and they are adding KR as CH rchickel@gcc.net

You will want to make these changes:

- Slow down the transmission speed Set the BAUD rate of the fax machine to 9600 bps or even lower (7200 bps would be the next slower setting).
- Turn off or disable ECM (error correction mode), a setting, usually defaulted on, that many fax machines have.

Test faxing by using the HP Test Fax Service:

- You can use the following number to test your fax and get a response fax sent right back to you. Send a one page blank fax to 1-888-473-2963 (1 888-fxtest me). After receipt of your fax, the test fax will generate a return back to you with acknowledgement that your fax was received. You should receive the fax within 8 minutes

More on Baud rates & ECM settings:

We have added some additional information into these two important settings and included some instructions on making these adjustments on some fax machines voip fax settings

There are some other things that you will want to check, especially if you are still experiencing communication errors Some fax machines especially Brother have an Overseas

Mode which can be enabled before a fax. This setting makes temporary change to the fax tones to accommodate noise and static and should be set before each outgoing fax Check for the following

- Use a direct connection from the IAD to the fax machine Try removing any splitters and other devices in that line Some devices may interfere with the fax transmission, such as, answering machines and caller IDs.
- Try enabling Overseas Mode.
- Change the resolution setting to Standard, rather than super fine This limits the amount of pixels that need to be transmitted
- If your fax machine is not connecting to the receiving fax machine try disabling or clearing any stutter tones that may be present on the line Many VoIP providers use a stutter tone to notify the user of new Voice Mail These stutter sounds will confuse the fax machine.
- Try to set the CNG Tone MIN Count setting.
- Try plugging in the power adapter (cord) directly into a wall socket, rather than a power strip or surge protector.
- Try placing a DSL filter in reverse position between the ATA and the fax machine.

KEVIN BRADY: OUR CONSERVATIVE CONGRESSMAN

SECURING THE SORDER

Kevin is defending the Constitution. He's standing strong against President Obama's illegal amnesty—with a proven record in securing our border and championing legal worker verification. Kevin is a strong conservative voice against illegal immigration.

CUTTING DEBT, CREATING JOBS

A pro-small business conservative, Kevin has spent a lifetime creating jobs and championing free enterprise. As a key member of the House Ways & Means Committee, Kevin is leading the fight to balance the budget, fix the broken tax code, rein in the IRS, and reform the welfare system.

FIGHTING TERRORISM AND SUPPORTING OUR TROOPS

Kevin is a leading voice against President Obama's dangerous nuclear Iran deal. He knows radical Islamic terrorism is the greatest threat to our security. After 9/11, he successfully established a national network of security centers to prevent future attacks. He is fighting relentlessly to fully fund America's military might, intelligence capability, and our veterans.

Unlike many congressmen, Kevin spent moved to Washington. He commutes to seven each week from Texas. Kevin and his wife, Cathy, are raising their two boys here.

You can skip this step if you only want to receive faxes at the email address you set up with fax-enable. If you want to be able to send faxes as well, then you'll need to install a free or commercially available HylaFax client on your desktop machine. Here's the complete list of HylaFax clients. Regardless of the client you choose, you'll need to enter the credentials for your HylaFax server. This includes the IP address of Incredible PBX on your private LAN, your username (root), and your root password. For a free Windows client, we recommend WinPrint. For Mac machines, use Fax90. Both of these clients are so-called Print-to-Fax applications. This means you first must convert whatever document you wish to send into a PDF document. Then call it up on your screen and "print" the file to the Fax Device that was installed as part of the HylaFax client.

OBJECTION RESPONSE

1. We lease.

   Either situation is eligible for participation in the program. You will require permission from landlord if you lease and our experience is that they sometimes cover costs of plant materials.

2. Cost.

   We work with whatever budget you have there is no cost for our program services (we are funded by the Region of Peel), but you will have to cover the cost of plants and any other construction materials. Non-profit organizations may be eligible for funding and we can provide a list of funders i.e. TD Friends of the Environment.

3. Not enough green space.

   We can work with any size space and can recommend environmental solutions for paving, walls and roofs i.e. Permeable paving and parking islands, green walls and walls.

Test cricket is the longest form of the sport of cricket. Test matches are played between national representative teams with "Test status" as determined by the International Cricket Council (ICC). The two teams of 11 players play a four innings match, which often lasts up to five days. It is generally considered the most complete examination of teams' playing ability and endurance.[1][2][3] The origin of the name, Test stems from the long, gruelling match being a "test" of the relative strength of the two sides.[4]

The first officially recognised Test match began on 15 March 1877, between England and Australia at the Melbourne Cricket Ground (MCG), where Australia won by 45 runs.[5] A Test match to celebrate 100 years of Test cricket was held in Melbourne from 12 to 17 March 1977, in which Australia beat England by 45 runs—the same margin as that first Test.[6]

In October 2012, the International Cricket Council recast the playing conditions for Test matches, permitting day/night Test matches.[7]

Test status[edit]

Test matches are included in first-class cricket. Matches are played between national representative teams with "Test status" as determined by the International Cricket Council. As of December 2014, ten national teams have Test status, the most recently promoted being Bangladesh in 2000. Zimbabwe's Test status was voluntarily suspended, because of poor performances between 2006 and 2011, it returned to competition in August 2011.[8]

In January 2014, during the historic ICC meeting in Dubai, the pathway for new potential test nations was laid out with the winners of the next round of the ICC Intercontinental Cup playing a 5-day match against the bottom rank test nation. If the Associate team defeats the test nation then they could be added as the new test country and be given full membership.

A list of matches, defined as "Tests", was first drawn up by Australian Clarence Moody in the mid-1890s. Representative matches played by simultaneous England touring sides of 1891–92 (in Australia and South Africa) and 1929–30 (in the West Indies and New Zealand) are deemed to have "Test status".

In 1970, a series of five "Test matches" was played in England between England and a 'Rest of the World XI'. These matches, originally scheduled between England and South Africa, were amended after South Africa was suspended from international cricket because of their government's policy of apartheid. Although initially given Test status (and included as Test matches in some record books, including Wisden Cricketers' Almanack), this was later withdrawn and a principle was established that official Test matches can only be between nations. Despite this, in 2005, the ICC ruled that the six-day Super Series match that took place in October 2005 between Australia and a World XI was an official Test match. Some cricket writers and statisticians, including Bill Frindall, ignored the ICC's ruling and excluded the 2005 match from their records. The series of "Test matches" played in Australia between Australia and a World XI in 1971/72 do not have Test status. Kerry Packer World Series Cricket

QUEEN PALM CARE GUIDE

Easy as 1-2-3

Queen Palms are some of the most beautiful and most popular palms grown here in the desert. If given proper care, they will always be as green and full as when purchased.

1. WATERING

By far, [illegible] water is the most important ingredient for the well being of Queen Palms here in the desert. Queen Palms are the most thirsty palms, native to much wetter areas of the world. They can handle the extremes of our desert temperatures, but do need more water than nature provides. For most palms that don't appear healthy, lack of properly applied water combined with nutrient deficiencies is usually the cause. A good rule of thumb is that it's practically impossible to over water a Queen Palm, especially during the intense heat of summer months.

When applying water, [illegible] better? As a Queen Palm matures, it's roots spread wide, but not much deeper than 18 to 24 inches. So make sure that as your tree grows to apply the water wider every year. A good rule of thumb for this is to water an area at least 5 to 6 times as wide as the trunk diameter.

How often to water depends on many variables including current temperatures, soil conditions and recent rainfall (or lack of). To keep a good, healthy level of moisture for Queen Palms, these watering guidelines are as follows:

Season / Temp Range	Watering (per week)
Summer - Above 100°	4 to 5 times per week
Fall - 85° to 100°	2 to 3 times per week
Winter / Below 85°	1 to 2 times per week
Spring / 85° to 100°	2 to 3 times per week

NOTE: Too [illegible]. Abnormal [illegible] leaves. Symptoms may also indicate [illegible] water soil. Have [illegible] calendula for applied water.

2. FERTILIZING

Keeping Queen palms healthy has never been this easy!

Don't fall for expensive fertilizers or pellets that many [illegible] to sell. We've taken the guesswork out of feeding Queen Palms. Our Super Palm Juice® has all of the major & micro nutrients to keep palms green & healthy in an easy to use liquid format that reaches the roots FAST!

Super Palm Juice is great for all varieties of palms and is an [illegible] for Queen Palms!

3. TRIMMING

Only remove fronds that hang downward (below horizontal). Simply cut frond about 2' 5" from trunk, using a cut that is parallel to the trunk. During Summer months it is common to get some brown tips. It's ok to just trim off the brown and leave the green portion of the frond. Trimming is usually only necessary once or twice a year.

Set the answer mode to manual. When you receive a fax, on the printer press the 'work button' (the left button, and then the 2 button to initiate. Also, what is even cooler is you can answer your phone anywhere on the same line (doesn't have to be connected to the printer), press *81 and hang up, and it will initiate. In either of these methods, you won't have to actually change any settings on the printer

Prayer to St. Joseph over 1900 years old

O St Joseph whose protection is so great, so strong, so prompt before the Throne of God, I place n you all my interests and desires O St Joseph do assist me by your powerful Intercession and obtain for me from your Divine Son all spiritual blessings through Jesus Christ. Our Lord, so that having engaged here below your Heavenly power I may offer my Thanksgiving and Homage to the most Loving of Fathers O St Joseph I never weary contemplating you and Jesus asleep in your arms I dare not approach while He reposes near your heart Press him in my name and kiss His fine Head for me, and ask Him to return the Kiss when I draw my dying breath. St. Joseph, Patron of departing souls, pray for us. Amen

Say for nine consecutive mornings for anything you may desire. It has seldom been known to fail.

This prayer was found in the fiftieth year of Our Lord Jesus Christ. In 1500 s it was sent by the Pope to Emperor Charles when he was going into battle

Whoever reads this prayer or bears it or carries it, will never die a sudden death, nor be drowned, nor will poison take effect on them They will not fall into the hands of the enemy nor be burned in any fire, nor will they be defeated in battle.

Make this prayer known everywhere

Imprimatur

Nikkei Student Union
Cultural Night

UCLA

Nikkei Student Union (NSU) 29th Annual Cultural Night serves to show our passion and commitment to Japanese American culture and heritage by showcasing the talents and collaboration of students. Due to constant budget cuts on-campus organization funding has decreased significantly over the past few years, reducing allocations that NSU receives from the university.

NSU is making all efforts to preserve its cultural awareness programs by creating a network of support from the community as well as from friends and family. We ask for your support through contributions in the form of sponsorship or an advertisement in order to continue our efforts to educate the students and community about Japanese American history, culture, and experience.

Your support to our efforts is greatly appreciated, and we hope that you will be a part of our 29th Cultural Night! Thank you for your time and consideration.

Reliable, Powerful Server

Presumably, you want to test your fax machine by sending a fax from it and receiving a fax with it. Here's how to do both:

To test the send functionality of your fax machine, send a one-page fax to 1-855-330-1239 (a toll-free number in the United States.) When it's finished transmitting, point your web browser to Fax.Tay — it's a fun web site that displays whatever is faxed to that number. Within a minute, your fax should appear on the site. Click the thumbnail to see a large version.

To test the receive functionality of your fax machine, point your web browser to FaxZero: this site lets you send faxes for free to anywhere in the United States and Canada. Within a few minutes, your fax machine should ring — hopefully it will automatically answer and spit out the test fax.

Testing Your HP Fax Machine with the HP Fax Test Service

Introduction

This document will assist you in testing your HP Fax machine using the HP Fax Test Service.

Print this whenever for easy reference by clicking the Printable Version link in the upper right corner of this page.

Test your fax capability

To test the capability of your fax machine, follow the instructions below:

NOTE: Be sure that your phone number is not Caller ID blocked by your telephone company prior to attempting to send and receive fax. Pressing *82 before dialing the toll free number will unblock the Caller ID blocking feature in most areas. Some phone company services may prevent you from receiving a fax, call waiting voice mail, call forwarding, or call privacy features.

NOTE: Manage troubleshooting a fax issue. It is good practice to run the Automatic Repair wizard to fix any errors before attempting a test fax. This way, even if the test fax fails, an error code will be generated that will guide you in future troubleshooting. This option is available in minutes, please see different products, consult the product User's Guide for specific steps.

1. Send a one page word and white text fax to 1-888-reply-me (1-888-572-2963).
2. When your fax is received by the HP Test Fax Service, we will generate a return fax to you within five minutes confirming that we received your fax. This verifies that your HP both sent and received a fax with your fax machine.

If you do not receive a return fax within 5-7 minutes, there may be a problem with the setup of your fax machine. Consult the user manual that came with the product for proper setup and configuration.

NOTE: The most common cause of failure is that the fax number set in the Fax Header on the machine does not match the number of the phone line connected to the fax. Also, ensure that the fax header contains the full 10-digit telephone number of the fax machine, including the area code.

For more information or assistance, click Next at the top of this page.

Thank you.

Somewhere In My Memory

Candles in the window, shadows painting the ceiling, Gazing at the fire-glow, feeling that ginger-bread feeling.
Precious moments, special people, happy faces I can see
Somewhere in my mem'ry, Christmas joys all around me Living in my mem'ry, all of the music, all of the magic, all of the fam'ly home here with me

Star Of Bethlehem

Star of Bethlehem, shining bright, bathing the world in heav'nly light, Let the glow of your distant glory fill us with hope this Christmas night Star of innocence, Star of goodness, gazing down since time began, You who've lived through endless ages, view with love the age of man Star of beauty, hear our plea, whisper your wisdom tenderly Star of Bethlehem, set us free, make us a world we long to see

Merry Christmas, Merry Christmas

Merry Christmas! Merry Christmas! Sing a song for the glorious season!
Merry Christmas! Merry Christmas! Sing a song for a happy new year!
Sing verily, merrily loud and strong! Welcome the wintry season! Just follow a long with a holiday song. Santa is here again. Yes!
Merry Christmas! Merry Christmas! Sing a song for the glorious season!
Merry Christmas! Merry Christmas! Sing a song for a happy new year!
Now reindeer fly, if you need any proof, s'merely a matter of reason
Just listen you'll hear when they land on the roof Santa is here again Yes!
Merry Christmas! Merry Christmas! Sing a song for the glorious season!
Merry Christmas! Merry Christmas! Sing a song for a happy new year!
Merry Christmas! Merry Christmas! Sing a song for the obvious reason!
Merry Christmas! Merry Christmas! It's a magical, lyrical, annual, miracle, sing it out loud! Sing a song for a happy new year! Yes!

Universal Dog Park Rule #1

Absolutely NO violent or aggressive dogs allowed on these premises.

Having your dog leashed or muzzled is NOT an excuse.

This is NOT the place to socialize your aggressive/violent dog.

This IS a place for well-behaved, friendly and already social dogs and their RESPONSIBLE owners. If your dog likes to bully, challenge, charge or attack - LEAVE IT HOME - IT DOESN'T BELONG HERE.

Subject: Mark this day down, Chip has a tech tip!

Staff
Our fax machine is only able to send local (614 area code) faxes at this point. We are no longer able to send long distance or 1 800 number faxes. See below for the help desk ticket.

We can check whether the problem is on our end by sending a fax to 1-614-479-3898 which goes to our IT department (you can call x1225 to confirm receipt) or for long distance faxes 1 513 294 2943 and then going to the website https://www.faxtoy.net/ to see if the fax went through. This is what I did today to confirm that long distance faxes were not going through. Just call me Mr. Tech.

Q: What should I know about an FHA refinance?

A. FHA refinance loans are available for: (as used in refinancing an existing mortgage)

Equity requirements: 2.25% (rate and term refinance only)

May qualify if: at least two years after the date of discharge of a bankruptcy (Chapter 7)*

May qualify if: at least three years after the date of foreclosure*

*Exceptions may be known; you should discuss your specific circumstances and reasons for your credit

Q: What eligibility requirements are there?

A. To be eligible for an FHA refinance with Discover Home Loans:

Your home must be secured by a one- or two-unit property occupied as your primary residence

Your monthly housing costs (mortgage principal and interest, property taxes and insurance) should generally not exceed 31% of your gross monthly income.

Your monthly housing costs plus all additional monthly debt should generally not exceed 43% of your gross monthly income

Your loan amount must not exceed your county limit as determined by the FHA. Contact one of our Dedicated Mortgage Bankers to determine what county loan limits are applicable to your specific situation

You do not need to be a U.S. citizen, though additional requirements apply to non-citizens

If applicable, you have been discharged from a Chapter 7 bankruptcy for two years or more or, if you are in a Chapter 13 bankruptcy, you have made all court-approved payments on time as agreed for at least one year. Additional requirements apply. Contact one of our Dedicated Mortgage Bankers about your specific situation.

Q: When is refinancing a good idea?

A. If you can reduce your current interest rate, you'll cut your monthly payments and may reduce the amount of interest you pay over the life of your loan depending on the term of your new loan. Moving from a 30-year term to a shorter-term mortgage can help you pay off your loan sooner. In other cases, long-term cash-out refinancing may help you pay off debt or make home improvements. Or if you need money to pay down high-interest bills or make major purchases, a cash-out refinance can help you do that.

Please call one of our Dedicated Mortgage Bankers at 1-800-276-3861 with questions or for more information

DISCLOSURES, TERMS, and CONDITIONS

Your receipt of this mailing does not mean you have been pre-approved or pre-qualified for a loan or credit line. Any credit card or credit line offer and credit card or credit line terms are subject to credit approval. Rates, terms, and conditions are subject to change without notice, may vary by state, and are not available on all loan amounts. Not all products and features are available at all times. Other restrictions and limitations may apply. Contact us for more information.

Refinancing an FHA, VA, or USDA loan: Before deciding to refinance your mortgage, you should carefully consider the costs of refinancing, including any prepayment penalty or other fees you may have to pay in connection with your existing loan and the costs of your new loan. For example, you may have to pay an upfront mortgage insurance premium, which could increase the amount you borrow. You should also consider how long you expect to own your home and how many monthly payments you will have to make before you recoup the costs of refinancing through lower monthly payments. Refinancing may not be to your advantage if you will own your home for only a short time and will not make enough monthly payments to recoup the costs of refinancing. Refinancing may also not be to your advantage if you are close to paying off your current mortgage.

Benefits and Risks of Refinancing: Any decision to refinance your mortgage should be based on the benefits and risks that you determine are associated with the refinancing. For example, refinancing may lower the amount of your monthly mortgage payment, but you may have to pay more in interest over the life of the loan. Refinancing may also involve the risk that you will lose your home if you are unable to make the payments required under the new mortgage loan.

Refinancing an existing mortgage loan may not be in your best interest if you are current on your mortgage payments and refinancing would increase the total amount you would pay over the life of the loan, unless you have a specific reason for refinancing that is more important than the increased cost. For example, refinancing may be in your best interest if it is necessary to stop foreclosure on your home or if you need to refinance a balloon mortgage payment that you will be unable to make when it comes due.

Monthly payment reduction: You may be able to reduce the amount of your monthly mortgage payment by refinancing your loan to a lower interest rate, extending the term of your loan, or both. A lower monthly payment does not always mean a lower cost loan. Even if you refinance to a lower interest rate, your total monthly payment may increase if you extend the term of your loan or finance the costs of refinancing. Extending the term of your loan may cause you to pay more interest over the life of the loan than you would pay if you did not refinance.

Name(s) shown on return | Social security number or taxpayer identification number

Before you check Box A, B, or C below, see whether you received any Form(s) 1099-B or substitute statement(s) from your broker. A substitute statement will have the same information as Form 1099-B. Either will show whether your basis (usually your cost) was reported to the IRS by your broker and may even tell you which box to check.

Part I Short-Term. Transactions involving capital assets you held 1 year or less are short term. For long-term transactions, see page 2.

Note: You may aggregate all short-term transactions reported on Form(s) 1099-B showing basis was reported to the IRS and for which no adjustments or codes are required. Enter the totals directly on Schedule D, line 1a; you aren't required to report these transactions on Form 8949 (see instructions).

You must check Box A, B, or C below. Check only one box. If more than one box applies for your short-term transactions, complete a separate Form 8949, page 1, for each applicable box. Compass Box Oak Cross 46%
This has long been a core whisky for Compass Box, but the latest version of it is spicier and fresher than I recall, and without doubt, it's my new boozy friend. Virgin French oak heads help to contribute oriental and aromatic spices on the nose, with hints of melon and pineapple candy sweets. The taste is a delight, with spearmint, malt, toffee, sweet citrus fruit, lemonade mixed with beer, and strawberry wafers. An array of spices from cinnamon to chili to ginger dominate the finish.

Compass Box The Peat Monster
46%
The formula for this whisky has changed slightly since its inception—and I think for the better. They've added some Laphroaig into the mix of Caol Ila and Ardmore. This whisky demonstrates the layered complexity that can be achieved by marrying whisky from different distilleries and different regions. I particularly enjoy the rich maltiness and oily texture that provide firm bedding and flavor contrast to the classic islay notes: tar, boat docks, brine, smoked olive, seaweed, and fish hash. More subtle cracked peppercorn, mustard seed, and citrus fruit add complexity. Long, warming finish. Amazing how a small change in composition can significantly affect the overall flavor profile of a whisky.

Part I Taxpayer Identification Number (TIN)

Enter your TIN in the appropriate box. The TIN provided must match the name given on Line 1 to avoid backup withholding. For individuals, this is your social security number (SSN). However, for a resident alien, sole proprietor, or disregarded entity, see the Part I instructions on page 3. For other entities, it is your employer identification number (EIN). If you do not have a number, see How to get a TIN on page 3.

Note. If the account is in more than one name, see the chart on page 4 for guidelines on whose number to enter.

Part II Certification

Under penalties of perjury, I certify that:

1. The number shown on this form is my correct taxpayer identification number (or I am waiting for a number to be issued to me), and
2. I am not subject to backup withholding because: (a) I am exempt from backup withholding, or (b) I have not been notified by the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) that I am subject to backup withholding as a result of a failure to report all interest or dividends, or (c) the IRS has notified me that I am no longer subject to backup withholding, and
3. I am a U.S. person (including a U.S. resident alien).

Certification instructions. You must cross out item 2 above if you have been notified by the IRS that you are currently subject to backup withholding because you have failed to report all interest and dividends on your tax return. For real estate transactions, item 2 does not apply. For mortgage interest paid, acquisition or abandonment of secured property, cancellation of debt, contributions to an individual retirement arrangement (IRA), and generally, payments other than interest and dividends, you are not required to sign the Certification, but you must provide your correct TIN. (See the instructions on page 4.)

General Instructions

Section references are to the Internal Revenue Code unless otherwise noted.

Purpose of Form

A person who is required to file an information return with the IRS must obtain your correct taxpayer identification number (TIN) to report, for example, income paid to you, real estate transactions, mortgage interest you paid, acquisition or abandonment of secured property, cancellation of debt, or contributions you made to an IRA.

Use Form W-9 only if you are a U.S. person (including a resident alien), to provide your correct TIN to the person requesting it (the requester) and, when applicable, to:

1. Certify that the TIN you are giving is correct (or you are waiting for a number to be issued),
2. Certify that you are not subject to backup withholding, or
3. Claim exemption from backup withholding if you are a U.S. exempt payee. If applicable, you are also certifying that as a U.S. person, your allocable share of any partnership income from a U.S. trade or business is not subject to the withholding tax on foreign partners' share of effectively connected income.

Note. If a requester gives you a form other than Form W-9 to request your TIN, you must use the requester's form if it is substantially similar to this Form W-9.

Definition of a U.S. person. For federal tax purposes, you are considered a U.S. person if you are:

- An individual who is a U.S. citizen or U.S. resident alien,
- A partnership, corporation, company, or association created or organized in the United States or under the laws of the United States,
- Any estate (other than a foreign estate), or
- A domestic trust (as defined in Regulations section 301.7701-7).

Special rules for partnerships. Partnerships that conduct a trade or business in the United States are generally required to pay withholding tax on any foreign partners' share of income from such business. Further, in certain cases where a Form W-9 has not been received, a partnership is required to presume that a partner is a foreign person, and pay the withholding tax. Therefore, if you are a U.S. person that is a partner in a partnership conducting a trade or business in the United States, provide Form W-9 to the partnership to establish your U.S. status and avoid withholding on your share of partnership income.

The person who gives Form W-9 to the partnership for purposes of establishing its U.S. status and avoiding withholding on its allocable share of net income from the partnership conducting a trade or business in the United States is in the following cases:

- The U.S. owner of a disregarded entity and not the entity

from

http://www.linkathlete.com/sports/viewlinks.php?sp=Softball

If the coaches email is not on the team site you will need to go to the main athletic site and look where all the coaches are listed (usually the Athletic Staff Directory) to find the appropriate email

Also you will find attached an excel spreadsheet that contains almost every college coach email address in the country. This list includes D1, D2, D3 and NAIA. The list is fairly current, but I would recommend you do be checking any email address with the actual college web site. The last thing you want to do is email the previous coach at a school. Again the list is fairly accurate and shows the schools by division level and conference. As you will see there are many schools that you probably have never heard of. Do some research and you may be surprised at the quality of the academics and softball at D2, D3 and NAIA schools.

I do ask you keep this info with our Firecracker teams. It takes a lot of time and effort to compile this info and would like only for our Firecrackers players to benefit.

We have discussed the following info in the past, but here are a several rules/reminders to follow when send ing letters or emails to college coaches

Rule One Do not rush through emails to coaches. If you rush you are asking for mistakes. Take your time and make sure your email is concise and you have asked any necessary questions. Make it a goal to send 5-10 emails per week so not to feel overwhelmed.

Receiving a scholarship is like someone writing your family a check for $_____. You fill in the blank. The amount could be anywhere from a cousin Thousand a year to more than $75,000 a year. I don't know how many people who will turn that down, so the time spent on these emails, letters and phone calls now will have a very high return. So marketing yourself needs to be taken seriously, just like applying for the job of your dreams. That job will have plenty of qualified applicants, so how well you market yourself along with your talent will help separate you from the "crowd"

Rule Two Have a proper introduction (Dear Coach Jones, Hi Coach Jones) and closing in your email. Create your own signature that includes your contact information. A good signature not only looks professional, but it also relieves you of contact info mission. A good signature not only looks professional, but it also relieves you of contact information for the coach

Rule Three Do not use any slang words. You are not having a conversation with a friend or sending a text message, this is a college coach and you should use proper English.

Rule Four It is always a good idea to refer back to your previous contact with the coach. Make sure you answer any questions they had for you, and that you aren't repeating any information from a past email

Rule Five ALWAYS proof read your email. There should be no grammar, spelling or punctuation errors on this e mail

Rule Six Send emails to coaches one at a time. "CCing" several coaches or sending a mass email is not looked upon favorably AND will get your email deleted immediately!

Title
I am using Voice Over Internet Protocol (VoIP) and cannot send and/or receive faxes.

Description

There are many environmental parameters which can affect FAX over Voice over IP communications.
Although Voice over Internet Protocol (VoIP) is not a marketed feature of your Brother machine, there are several features that affect the ability to send and receive faxes successfully when using this service.

1. Try adjusting the "Compatibility" setting on the Brother machine. Adjusting this setting lowers the baud rate (modem speed) and turns ECM (Error Correction Mode) Off when sending black and white faxes.
   *If your Brother machine has a touchscreen, please follow the steps of "For Touchscreen models" below.

   a. Press Menu or Menu/Set, and select Fax => Miscellaneous => Compatibility
   b. Press the Up or Down arrow key to select Basic or Basic(for VoIP)
      Basic or Basic(for VoIP) reduces the modem speed to 9600 bps.
   c. Press OK or Menu/Set or Set.
   d. Press Stop/Exit.

   <For Touchscreen models>

   a. Press Menu and select Fax => Miscellaneous => Compatibility
   b. Press Basic(for VoIP)
      Basic(for VoIP) reduces the modem speed to 9600 bps
   c. Press Stop/Exit.

2. Verify that no other applications or computers are downloading files. While VoIP operates separately from the computer and they do not normally interfere with each other, the amount of data that can be transmitted from all devices on the system at one time is limited. If a FAX is being sent or received and a computer begins downloading, it will consume bandwidth and could prevent the FAX from going through.

3. Try sending the FAX again at an "off peak" time. FAX over VoIP is an internet application. If you have ever had a web site which normally loads quickly take a long time to load, then you have experienced network congestion. The same thing can happen to a FAX over Voice IP. Data packets get delayed, but unlike them is a time sensitive machine on the other end of the communication the whole thing times out. Sending the FAX again later may avoid this.

4. Contact your Voice IP provider and ask if they can optimize the network settings for FAX transmission.

Ping and Traceroute

All data sent over the internet is sent in packets. Consider the following analogy. The idea behind packets is very similar to the idea of the capsules used to send checking and savings information from your vehicle to tellers inside the bank via vacuum tubes. The emails you send and the files you download are all broken down into raw data and inserted into little packets. These packets are piped through your Internet connection. When a packet arrives at a destination computer, the data is extracted and reassembled into a file.

Ping and Traceroute are two programs that can be used to send packets of information to remote computers for the purpose of retrieving information. These programs are useful for testing your internet connection.

To use Ping and Traceroute you will need a command prompt.

Windows

- Click the Start button and select Run
- Enter cmmand or cmd into the Open field
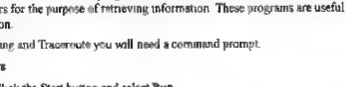
- Click OK. A windows command prompt screen should look like the example below



Macintosh OS X

- Open your Harddrive.
- Open the Applications folder
- Open the Utilities folder
- Double click Terminal

Macintosh OS 8-9 does not have a terminal/command prompt application available with the operating system. You will need to use a third party network diagnostics program. We recommend WhatRoute. Click here to download WhatRoute from 1ncows.

PING

Ping can test the speed of your connection, "distance" to target, and whether or not your connection is even up and running. It tells you how long a packet of data takes to travel from your computer to a specified host, and back again(in this case, the packet is 32 bytes in size).

To use Ping, type ping followed by a destination host (server name such as www.expedient.net) or a host IP address (e.g. 209.196.161.121).

> Note for Macintosh OS X users: use the command ping -c 4 followed by the destination host to ping only 4 times. If you do not use the -c 4 he command will continue pinging until your break the connection (CTRL+C on the keyboard).

Ping Tests

Once you have your command prompt (or WhatRoute) open, enter ping 127.0.0.1 and press Enter. You

Fax Hardware Test	PASS
Fax Connected to Active Telephone Wall Jack	PASS
Phone Cord Connected to Correct Port on Fax	PASS
Using Correct Type of Phone Cord with Fax	PASS
Dial Tone Detection	FAIL
Fax Line Condition Test	FAIL

Your fax line has a weak signal.

A dial tone was not detected.

Please check the items below then rerun this test.

Other equipment sharing the fax line can reduce the signal strength
Disconnect any equipment which is sharing the fax line (including extension phones, answering machines and dial up PC modems)
If you are using a splitter or some other device between the fax and the wall jack, remove it and connect the fax directly to the wall jack

If the Fax Line Condition test still fails, contact your phone service provider to have the fax line checked.

If your HP device is connected to a Private Branch Exchange (PBX) rather than the public telephone system the Dial Tone Detection test may fail

However, you should be able to successfully send and receive faxes.
Refer to your User Guide for more information on the fax test and settings

Instructions on how to rerun this test:
Step 1. Press the "Setup" button
Step 2. Choose the "Tools" menu

Adobe Acrobat PDF Files

Adobe® Portable Document Format (PDF) is a universal file format that preserves all of the fonts, formatting, colours and graphics of any source document, regardless of the application and platform used to create it.

Adobe PDF is an ideal format for electronic document distribution as it overcomes the problems commonly encountered with electronic file sharing.

- Anyone, anywhere can open a PDF file. All you need is the free Adobe Acrobat Reader. Recipients of other file formats sometimes can't open files because they don't have the applications used to create the documents.
- PDF files always print correctly on any printing device.
- PDF files always display exactly as created, regardless of fonts, software, and operating systems. Fonts and graphics are not lost due to platform, software, and version incompatibilities.
- The free Acrobat Reader is easy to download and can be freely distributed by anyone.
- Compact PDF files are smaller than their source files and download a page at a time for fast display on the Web.

Greening Where You Live

Since its founding over 25 years ago TD Friends of the Environment Foundation (TD FEF) has supported tens of thousands of projects in local communities that have helped to green where you live These projects range from outdoor classrooms and tree plantings to community gardens and environmental education programs for children

TD FEF is powered by the idea that small monthly donations can make a big difference Thanks to the generosity of over 175 000 monthly donors across Canada TD FEF has provided over $75 million in funding to more than 24,000 environment projects

By becoming a monthly donor you will help organizations in your community deliver environmental projects and programs that make a very real and positive impact. And because TD Bank Group covers the management and administration costs of the Foundation, 100% of every dollar you give will be invested in local projects.

To join us and become a monthly donor, please visit your local TD Canada Trust branch go to tdfef.com or text "GREEN" to 45678

Join the conversation on Twitter Facebook and Instagram @tdfef and #TDFEF

The beautiful photos featured in this calendar were taken by TD employees from across Canada We are pleased to showcase these photos and the diverse range of interpretations of this year's theme "Green Spaces Wild Places"

...mula of an hour on speed training sessions. Run Fast

Tempo Runs This is a continuous run at a pace a bit faster than your normal pace. A Tempo Run of 30 to 45 minutes would begin with 10-15 minutes easy running, build to 15-20 minutes near the middle at a pace 30-40 seconds per mile slower than your 10K pace, and then finish with 10-15 minutes easy jogging. The pace during the tempo portion should be gradual, not sudden, with each speed coming about two-thirds of the way between your normal pace and your 10K pace. Hold that peak only for a minute or two. I consider Tempo Runs to be the Training Runner's Workout. A Tempo Run can be as hard or easy as you want to make it, and it has nothing to do with how you feel on race day. In fact, the times are what's important. Tempo Runs serve mainly as rough guidelines. Feel free to improvise. Improvisation is the smart way of doing a Tempo Run correctly.

Pace A lot of runners look at a training schedule and ask, "What do you mean by 'pace?' I mean, 'race pace.' The pace at which you expect to run the half marathon." Some workouts are designed as pace runs to help you get used to running the pace you will run in a race. For example, I ask you to do 4 miles at race pace. Hopefully that is self-explanatory, but I offer more directions in the weekly workouts. For all the days that I do not specifically mention pace, run at a comfortable pace. Don't worry about it.

Warm-up Taking the time to warm up is important, not only before the race itself but before your speed workouts and long pace runs. Most novice runners do not warm up correctly in the race itself. This is okay because they tend to run more slowly than they are capable. You have a little room for error, but if you wouldn't like to run the race that slowly, a proper warm-up is necessary. My usual warm-up is to jog for 10 minutes and stretch for 10 minutes. The 10 minutes of easy stretches and jogs are meant to get my heart rate up. And I usually do a few strides or a half-mile warm-up at race pace.

Cross-Training You always present cross-training (or alternate) runners. There, because you're usually somewhat more fatigued than you are on regular runners. But if you find that cross-training helps you prevent injury, you'll enjoy it, feel free to substitute it for more of the running days. I suggest that you use the Tuesday or Thursday workout. I will not, however, recommend that you do both. It could be that you're not ready to add cross-training, particularly if you're already training on a schedule under the guidance of a coach. It will make you stronger, I may argue, but you could also have a negative effect on performance. Check with your coach first. What form of cross-training works best? It could be swimming, cycling, water running, or even some combination thereof. Use the strength training exercises.

Juggling Don't be afraid to juggle the workouts from one day and week to week. If you have an important business meeting on Thursday, do the workout on Wednesday instead. If your family is going to be on vacation for a week when you will have time for less or less to train, just use the schedule as a rough guide. If this means running two or three successive days, so be it. Or, if you can't fit an extra day in that week, be spontaneous. Be consistent with your training and the other details won't matter.

Here is your intermediate half marathon training program. It only a guide. Feel free to make minor modifications to still yet a particular schedule. Feel free to make minor modifications to suit your work and family schedule. Also, you can sign up for the intermediate program from TrainingPeaks for more detailed information on what to run each day and tips for your training.

Test cricket is the longest form of the sport of cricket. Test matches are played between national representative teams with "Test status" as determined by the International Cricket Council (ICC). The two teams of 11 players play a four innings match, which often lasts up to five days. It is generally considered the most complete examination of teams' playing ability and endurance.[1][2][3] The origin of the name Test stems from the long, gruelling match being a "test" of the relative strength of the two sides.[4]

The first officially recognised Test match began on 15 March 1877, between England and Australia at the Melbourne Cricket Ground (MCG), where Australia won by 45 runs.[5] A Test match to celebrate 100 years of Test cricket was held in Melbourne from 12 to 17 March 1977, in which Australia beat England by 45 runs—the same margin as that first Test.[6]

In October 2012, the International Cricket Council recast the playing conditions for Test matches, permitting day/night Test matches.[7]

Test status[edit]

Test matches are included in first-class cricket. Matches are played between national representative teams with "Test status" as determined by the International Cricket Council. As of December 2014, ten national teams have Test status, the most recently promoted being Bangladesh in 2000. Zimbabwe's Test status was voluntarily suspended, because of poor performances between 2006 and 2011, it returned to competition in August 2011.[8]

In January 2014, during the historic ICC meeting in Dubai, the pathway for new potential test nations was laid out with the winners of the next round of the ICC Intercontinental Cup playing a 5-day match against the bottom rank test nation. If the Associate team defeats the test nation then they could be added as the new test country and be given full membership.

A list of matches, defined as "Tests", was first drawn up by Australian Clarence Moody in the mid-1890s. Representative matches played by simultaneous England touring sides of 1891–92 (in Australia and South Africa) and 1929–30 (in the West Indies and New Zealand) are deemed to have "Test status".

In 1970, a series of five "Test matches" was played in England between England and a Rest of the World XI. These matches, originally scheduled between England and South Africa, were amended after South Africa was suspended from international cricket because of their government's policy of apartheid. Although initially given Test status (and included as Test matches in some record books, including Wisden Cricketers' Almanack), this was later withdrawn and a principle was established that official Test matches can only be between nations. Despite this, in 2005, the ICC ruled that the six-day Super Series match that took place in October 2005, between Australia and a World XI, was an official Test match. Some cricket writers and statisticians, including Bill Frindall, ignored the ICC's ruling and excluded the 2005 match from their records. Ears to Hear
Group 2

One way to understand the relationship between shepherd and sheep in the desert is to realize that all people experience desert pain, illness, loss and heartache. That is the nature of our world. But it is also the nature of God to lead, provide for and care for His flock. Some would say that during the most difficult times in the desert, the Lord provide so that they lacked nothing!

1. In Deuteronomy 2:7, what did Moses say to the Israelites as they were leaving the desert?

   How could he say that when they were living in tents, running out of water, suffering manna instead of being in the Promised Land?

2. Read Psalm 23. I- What does David say about his time in the desert? How could he say this when he had been running for his life in the heat of the wilderness and hiding in caves?

3. Read Luke 12:16-21 What does Jesus say about those who need more than what they need?

What is the difference between having everything you want versus everything you need?

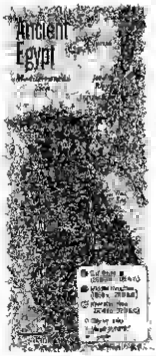
GROWING UP IN

What was life like for Egyptian kids in the days of King Tut?



by Kathy Wilmore

What kinds of games did kids in ancient Egypt play? Who subjects did they study in school? Let's journey back about 3,000 years to the period that historians call the New Kingdom (see map below). Egypt's Pharaoh is a teenage boy named Tutankhamen (TOOT-ank-ah-MEN) (ruled 1333–1323 B.C.), known today as King Tut. He became Pharaoh at about age 9. It is thought that he died around 1323 B.C. at about age 18.

Tut's reign was unremarkable. But the discovery of his tomb in 1922 produced worldwide interest, making him Egypt's most famous Pharaoh. Archaeologists found a huge collection of artifacts, including a golden death mask (see "The Unmasked," p. 14). Such treasures have brought us a great deal about life in ancient Egypt.

Your journey back in time takes you to Thebes (THEBZ), a major city and capital of the Egyptian empire (see map). There you meet Sarah, a boy of 12, and Ken, a girl of 15. Sarah's father is a nearly everyone works to help care for the royal family. Ken's father is a well-off government official.

Words to Know

artisan (ART-uh-zuhn): person who is skilled at making things by hand hieroglyphics (HI-ur-uh-GLIF-iks): writing system in which pictures or symbols are used to represent words or sounds

Pharaoh (FAIR-oh): King

ANCIENT EGYPT INVENTIONS & ADVANCEMENTS

The civilization of ancient Egypt lasted for more than 3,000 B.C. to 30 B.C. It grew from small settlements on the banks of the Nile River into a powerful empire. Egypt's ancient people made many important inventions and discoveries. The following are just a few:

- Egyptians developed a 365-day calendar around 4236 B.C.
- Egyptians developed a system of writing called hieroglyphics around 3000 B.C.
- Egyptians built the Great Pyramids at Giza around 2550 B.C.

Adobe Acrobat PDF Files

Adobe® Portable Document Format (PDF) is a universal file format that preserves all of the fonts, formatting, colours and graphics of any source document, regardless of the application and platform used to create it.

Adobe PDF is an ideal format for electronic document distribution as it overcomes the problems commonly encountered with electronic file sharing.

- Anyone, anywhere can open a PDF file. All you need is the free Adobe Acrobat Reader. Recipients of other file formats sometimes can't open files because they don't have the applications used to create the documents.
- PDF files always print correctly on any printing device.
- PDF files always display exactly as created, regardless of fonts, software, and operating systems. Fonts, and graphics are not lost due to platform, software, and version incompatibilities.
- The free Acrobat Reader is easy to download and can be freely distributed by anyone.
- Compact PDF files are smaller than their source files and download a page at a time for fast display on the Web.

Reprint requests: Dr. Torriani, Department of Orthopaedic Surgery, New York Hospital-Cornell Medical Center, 525 East 68th Street, New York, NY 10021.

ABSTRACT

We have treated a new and simple way of treating ingrown toenails. The developed a new taping method to prevent pincer nail deformity. The purpose of the current study was to evaluate the results and cosmetic outcome of this method. We treated 41 patients (47 toes) with ingrown toenails. Twenty-nine patients (30 toes) had chronic ingrown toenails that had not responded to conservative therapy. Twelve patients (17 toes) had acute infection. The mean follow-up was 18 months (range, 6 to 36 months). The overall success rate was 93%. The cosmetic outcome was excellent in 76% of patients, good in 20%, and poor in 4%. Complications were minor and consisted of local irritation in 2 patients. Patient-controlled taping is the preferred treatment for ingrown toenails because it is simple, effective, and safe.

If the coaches email is not on the team site, you will need to go to the main athletic site and look where all the coaches are listed (usually the Athletic Staff Directory) to find the appropriate email.

Also, you will find attached an excel spreadsheet that contains an old (very college coach email address in the country. This list includes D1, D2, D3 and NAIA. The list is fairly current, but I would recommend you double checking any email address with the actual college web site. The last thing you want to do is email the previous coach at a school. Again, the list is fairly accurate and it covers the schools by division level and conference. As you will see, there are many schools that you probably have never heard of. Do some research and you may be surprised at the quality of the academics and softball at D2, D3 and NAIA schools.

I do ask you keep this info with our Firecracker teams. It takes a lot of time and effort to compile this info, and would like only for our Firecracker players to benefit.

We have discussed the following info in the past, but here are a several rules/reminders to follow when sending letters or emails to college coaches:

Rule One: Do not rush through emails to coaches. If you rush, you are asking for mistakes. Take your time and make sure your email is concise and you have asked any necessary questions. Make it a goal to send 5-10 emails per week so not to feel overwhelmed.

Receiving a scholarship is like someone writing you a big fat check for $_____. You fill in the blank. The amount could be anywhere from a couple thousand a year to more than $75,000 a year. I don't know too many people who will turn that down, so the time spent on emails, letters and phone calls now will have a very high return. So marketing yourself needs to be taken seriously. Just like applying for the job of your dreams – that job will have plenty of qualified applicants, so how will you market yourself along with your talent will help separate you from the "crowd".

Rule Two: Have a proper introduction (Dear Coach Jones, Hi Coach Jones) and a closing in your emails. Create your own signature that includes your contact information. A good signature not only looks professional, but it also reiterates your contact information to a coach.

Rule Three: Do not use any slang words. You are not having a conversation with a friend or sending a text message. She is a college coach and you should use proper English.

Rule Four: It is always a good idea to refer back to your previous contact with the coach. Make sure you answer any questions they had, or you and that you aren't repeating any information from a past email.

Rule Five: ALWAYS proof read your email. There should be no grammar, spelling or punctuation errors in the e mail.

Rule Six: Send emails to coaches one at a time. "CCing" several coaches, or sending a mass email is not looked upon favorably AND will get your email deleted immediately!

ReloadDocData<https://msdn.microsoft.com/en-us/library/bb138670.aspx> method on the document data object directly.

The IDE also uses the RDT to resurface (bring to the front) an open document if a user requests that document. For more information, see Displaying Files By Using the Open File Command<https://msdn.microsoft.com/en-us/library/bb165448.aspx>. To determine whether a file is open in the RDT, do one the following:

- Query for the document moniker (that is, the full document path) to find out if the item is open.
- Use the hierarchy or item ID to ask the project system for the full document path, and then look the item up in the RDT.

How to Receive a Fax on Your Fax Machine »

How Can I Test My Fax Machine?

I just hooked up a new fax machine and I'd like to test it just to make sure it works. How can I do that?

Presumably, you want to test your fax machine by sending a fax from it and receiving a fax with it. Here's how to do both:

To test the send fax capability of your fax machine, send a fax to a free fax test number. Many companies provide free fax test numbers for the United States. When you're finished reading, point your web browser to www.fax.com — a free fax web site that displays what you've faxed to that number. Within a minute, your fax should appear on the site. Click the thumbnail to see a larger version.

To test the receive functionality of your fax machine, point your web browser to www.efax.com. This site lets you send faxes for free to anywhere in the United States and Canada. Within a few minutes, your fax machine should ring — hopefully, it will automatically answer and print out the test fax.
